

Follow-up on JCB45 recommendations

Recommendations / Decisions		Follow-up action
1.	That TDR as a brand should remain and that any change of branding should only be considered if it adds value to the Programme.	The new strategy keeps the overall TDR brand while charting a course in line with current global health needs.
2.	In response to the review's recommendation to consider placing staff in overseas locations, given the cost implications and the possibility of compromising TDR's relationship with the Science Division, to strengthen regional and country offices instead.	TDR continues to expand its relationships and interactions with the WHO regional offices and engaging with country offices. This will continue in the implementation of the new strategy.
3.	To consider climate change and biodiversity in the next strategy.	The draft strategy presented for JCB's consideration is taking this recommendation into account.
4.	Stressed the importance of face-to-face meetings in the future, with possible live streaming to allow for broader participation of all stakeholders.	The JCB meetings will continue to take place annually. Limited remote participation is possible to allow for participation of broader stakeholders.
